Background: In early 1968, a young lawyer, Maurice “Mo” Jourdan was shooting pool in a smoky cantina in Soledad, California, when a small band of farmworkers approached him, a couple of them walking with a rigid gait that spoke of constant pain. The men stopped and issued a simple challenge: “If you really want to help the farmworkers, get rid of el cortito — the short-handled hoe.” Mo did....and much, much more. Mr. Jourdan’s life is truly an inspirational Si Se Puede story of his victories over personal and tragic challenges.
